Frequently Asked Questions

1. What do Easy Royalties applications do?

Easy Royalties records sales figures, maintains author contracts, calculates author royalties and generates royalty statements. Powerful import & export tools to exchange your data with other systems.

That's Rights! maintains a database of your rights sales clients & prospects, drives submissions follow-up, and provides tools to negotiate license terms and agreements. Produces business reports for company meetings or trade fairs, calculates royalties due on licensing activities and produces royalty statements for your authors or contributors. That's Rights! comes with built-in, pre-defined profiles of languages (over 450), countries (all of them) and standard rights territories, and all international currencies. Maintains a database of permission purchases and sales for intellectual property included in your products or licensed to others.

2. How much does it cost to upgrade to a higher license level?

You can upgrade for the difference in price between your existing license and the new license.

3. Are there additional annual fees?

Once you have purchased a license for Easy Royalties, it is yours to use, indefinitely. There are no renewal fees, no obligatory maintenance fees or other extra costs. Updates to the version you purchase are provided for free.

Premium support plans are available on a subscription basis, and include upgrades to new major versions. Without a support plan, upgrades to new major versions can be purchased for an upgrade fee.

4. Can I try the software before purchasing it?

A free 30-day trial version is available. The trial version is a fully functional version of the software. You can import your existing data, calculate royalties and generate royalty statements. Download the 30 day trial version from www.royaltysoftware.net.

5. My free trial period has expired and I was too busy to evaluate the software - what do I do?

Install the trial copy again. You now have another 30 days.

(If you need to recover data from your first trial period, it's more complicated – contact us at support@royaltysoftware.net)

6. I like EasyRoyalties but it needs to work with my other software applications. Can I do this?

Yes. The Easy Royalties import/export features allow you to easily share data with other applications.

If you have specific data-sharing requirements, email us at support@royaltysoftware.net and we will recommend the best way to use Easy Royalties for your situation.

7. Can we have Easy Royalties customized to the needs of our company?

Your requirements may already be in our planned updates – or if they fit with our overall product direction we'll be glad to consider adding them – in which case you would receive them free of charge. If your requirements are something that we would not normally include in the product or you need as soon as possible, we would be glad to quote you a fixed price for a special customization. This price quote covers project management, requirements documentation, programming, testing and user documentation.

8. How can I pay for it?

Email us at support@royaltysoftware.net with the details of your required configuration, and we will send you a PayPal invoice that can be settled with any major credit card, PayPal funds, check or wire transfer. If you pay with your PayPal account you may be eligible for no interest extended payment terms via PayPal Credit.

9. What implementation support is available?

Most clients implement the software themselves with guidance and training provided by their customer support representative. You can easily import authors, titles and historical sales from a Microsoft Excel file.

Our New York office will import authors, products and historical sales for clients at no charge if the information is provided in Excel spreadsheets formatted to our specifications.

Alternatively, we can convert your data for you. Whether your data is in electronic format or on paper we can get it converted. This includes authors, titles, historical sales, royalty contracts, historical payments, and starting balances. Please contact us at support@royaltysoftware.net and we will quote a price for the conversion.

10. Do you offer a royalty processing service?

The New York office offers a royalty processing service for Easy Royalties clients in the United States.

We add products, create royalty contracts, enter royalty advance payments, import sales, calculate royalties, and generate royalty statements as PDFs. Monthly we provide the client with a zipped (compacted) folder that contains a copy of their updated Easy Royalties data file, a folder with royalty contract PDFs, a folder with royalty statement PDFs, and a royalty contract summary report. The contract summary report shows the royalty terms for each royalty contract.

Please contact us at support@royaltysoftware.net for a price quote for this service.
